Meeting of Cigar Makers

Chicago Dec 9—A meeting of cigar manufacturers was held in this city to day at which resolutions were adopted endorsing the action of the New York makers and advocating the abolishment of the tenement house system. It is proposed to make the action general throughout the country.

Failure

New York, Dec. 9—Oliphant & Co an old established China house have made an assignment.

The Trade Dollar in China

New York, Dec 9—Apprehensions have been expressed that the passage of the law making trade dollars legal tender would result in about thirty millions from China and in this way greatly increase the volume of currency. This is stated by merchants here to be a mistake, as it is a practice of Chinese bankers, on receiving any foreign coin and ascertaining its value, to put their mark upon it. A coin so defaced would not under our coinage laws be receivable as legal. A cable dispatch from Hongkong says that there are only seven millions of "unchopped" trade dollars there and the opinion is expressed that out of the 28 000 000 or 30,000,000 trade dollars exported to China in the last five years all but one or two millions have been chopped and therefore under the change of laws cannot enter into our coinage.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Grant's Probable Movements

Washington, Dec. 9—There is official authority for the statement that ex President Grant will not take passage in the Ticonderoga and become adviser of Commodore Schufeldt in his roving diplomatic mission nor take passage in that vessel for any purpose. The Richmond, which is being fitted out to be the flagship of Rear Admiral Patterson, commanding the Asiatic station will soon sail from this country, and it is the expectation that Gen. Grant will join her at Villa Franca and proceed therein to Hongkong via Suez canal. An invitation has been extended to Grant to make this trip and his reply was a thankful acknowledgement thereof with an expression of a probability of acceptance. His visit to Asia will have no diplomatic significance.

The New Treaty with Japan

Washington, Dec 9—The commercial treaty with Japan, soon to be communicated to the senate by the president for ratification contemplates an important addition to the present treaty having in view the increase and development of the commerce of both countries.

The Indian Transfer.

The Indian commission to day heard ex senator Morrill in opposition to the transfer. He advocated radical changes in the existing laws and said that the Indians should be housed and properly educated to be prepared to meet the coming emergency, of delivering their lands to the fast increasing white species.

John Young, agent of the Black feet Indians of Montana, said that they were mostly opposed to the transfer.

Opposing Statesmen Fraternize.

Washington Dec. 9—The dinner last night to John McCullough was a marked affair. Report says that there was some remarkable fraternizing between political chieftains of opposing parties. About 50 guests were present, among them Secretary Sherman and Senator Sherman the latter presiding and making the preliminary address. He said they had come there to unlimber guns and speak without restraint, and objected to a newspaper reporter present taking notes of the speeches. It is said that Blaine and other statesmen were very cordial in mutual appreciations of respect. Blaine is reported to have clasped Blackburn's hand across the table amid vociferous cheering. The festivities were protracted until near daybreak.

Call for Bonds.

Washington, Dec 9—The secretary of the treasury to-day issued the 74th call for the redemption of 5 20 bonds of 1865 and consols of 1865. On March 9 h next interest will cease.

For the Relief of California

In the house to-day Davis introduced a bill to reimburse California for expenses incurred in Indian wars.

CANADA.

The U. S. and Canada Boundary.

Ottawa, Dec 9—Application will be made at the coming session of parliament for an act to incorporate a company to construct a railway from the international boundary west of Red river thence to Winipeg and onward to the intersection of the line of the Canada Pacific Railway, also a branch railroad to connect therewith from a point on the Red river at or below Winipeg, with power to construct a line of telegraph connecting therewith.

A BIG CONUNDRUM

IF IT BE NOT MIRACULOUSLY SOLVED MANY INDIANS WILL STARVE TO DEATH—THE MOUNTAIN ON ITS LABORIOUS WAY TO MAHOMET

[Yankton Dispatch, Nov 28 to Chicago Tribune.]

There is trouble ahead with the Red Cloud Indians. An army officer reports a million pounds of supplies at the old agency buildings on the Missouri. This must be transported back into the country a distance of 200 miles to Red Cloud's present location. The transportation train numbering 100 wagons has started out with 100,000 pounds. There are 100 Indian drivers with their squaws who accompany as cooks. It will take at least one month to make the round trip. The Indians and ponies will subsist out of the 1 000 pounds loaded on each wagon. A hundred miles of the country traveled over was burned clear by prairie fires and cannot furnish any forage. The ponies are described by the officers as jack rabbits—not strong enough to haul the hat off a man's head. With bad winter weather and the usual snows ranging from one to ten feet in depth these ponies must stick and the supplies en route be abandoned, and under the most favorable circumstances the Indians with their transportation facilities will consume ten months to get their winter's supplies through. Their annuity goods including winter clothing are still on the river. There are 6,000 people dependent upon these supplies and goods. My informant says it is almost a question whether the driver and his companion can haul sufficient to supply themselves and ponies on a round trip. If the white contractors are called in the cost of transportation will be more than the supplies are worth. The Indian driver gets $30 per month and if that is deducted from the appropriation of his supplies as the commissioner says it will be the Indians will howl. Some Indian transportation wagons on the trail to Spotted Tail have already been abandoned. Bids have been asked for the transportation of 500 000 pounds from Yankton to Spotted Tail—200 miles—over the roughest kind of a road. The contract will be let to morrow. The conundrum is why is all this transportation left until winter and the Dakota blizzards? Gen Hammond the Indian inspector is now at Pine Ridge Red Cloud's camp investigating the agent Dr Irwin who did so much to move the Indians away from the river.

Secretary Schurz has sent for Capt C M Dougherty of the First Infantry and acting Indian agent at the Crow Creek and Lower Brule Indian agencies, where the gigantic frauds occurred. Dougherty is considered a model agent, and the secretary wants to talk with him on the transfer. Dougherty is opposed to transfer.

The Piutes and Shoshones

[Winnemucca (Nev.) Silver State.]

Indian agents for the Western Shoshones are now distributing annuities among the members of the tribe along the railroad. The hunting grounds of the tribe extend from Salt Lake west to Iron Point, which is the boundary between the Shoshones and Piutes and from about the Idaho line south to Lincoln county. The country inhabited by ~~the Shoshones is similar to their neighbors~~ the Piutes range and though these tribes do not speak the same dialect their customs and manner of living are similar in every particular. The whites in this part of the country where the tribes mix to some extent cannot distinguish a Piute from a Shoshone but the government makes a wide distinction between them. Yearly the Shoshones are furnished by Uncle Sam with blankets and clothing and in cold weather provisions while their Piute neighbors hereabouts receive nothing whatever from the government. The cause of this partiality on the part of the Great Father at Washington is not apparent to the pale faces or red men of this part of Nevada. The Piutes are certainly entitled to as much consideration from the government as the Shoshones at Battle Mountain and Elk [illegible] yet while the latter receive warm blankets comfortable clothing and provisions their Piute neighbors must provide [illegible] for themselves or freeze and starve during the winter season.

Pretty Mad at Tilden

[From the New York Evening Express Dem.]

A Washington telegram to the Tribune announces that Tilden is secretly making special efforts to secure the support of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. He counts on the active co operation of Speaker Randall and Mr W J Scott of Erie and by taking advantage of the divisions in the party he hopes to capture the larger faction. But he will encounter the energetic opposition of Senator Wallace and many of the most active and influential Democrats and will be beaten if he is foolish enough to make such a desperate attempt. It is characteristic of the man to seize on this unfortunate breach in the party in that state and try to wedge himself into prominence through the cleavage. He seems to feel that his only hope is in the misfortunes of this party and his chief efforts since his disgraceful fiasco in 1877 have been directed to foment disturbance and make trouble. The break in this state was wholly of his making and the recent discomfiture of the Democracy was the result of his disastrous and malign interference. He has cursed the party long enough and the sooner he is shaken off the better for it and the country.

Origin of the Gipsies.

In his new work The Races of European Turkey Edson Clark says philology has shown that the Gipsies are really an offshoot from the Hindoo race being nothing else than a wandering tribe from the valley of the Indus. Their language is a branch of the ancient Sanscrit akin to the modern dialects of northern India. A modern Hindoo would probably make himself understood by any tribe of Gipsies in Europe. There is no word in their language for God or immortality ~~Afure except a few unwritten songs~~ [illegible] passed from mouth to mouth. And yet of this people who have no literature there are 700 000 or 800 000 in Europe and probably [illegible] 000 000 in the whole world.

A Rare Literary Discovery.

In an album belonging to a Swiss library has been found an autographic entry made by John Milton. The album belonged to one Johannes Zolliko er a pastor of the Reformed Church in his own country in 1692 who traveled when a young man in England where he made the personal acquaintance of Milton. The entry is adapted from a passage in the Bible—2 Corinthians c xii v 9. When the words were written Milton had been blind several years. It is noticeable that his hand was uncertain and that the lines are not exactly one above the other.

THE AFGHAN WAR

A GENERAL VIEW OF THE COUNTRY—THE MILITARY SITUATION

[Paris Correspondence N. Y. Times.]

The political constitution of Afghanistan is a species of feudal confederacy. The emir is the sovereign more or less efficient of the other chiefs who rule north and south of the Hindoo Koosh although in reality the link between the [illegible] is weak, and the central government is usually very feeble. However accepting the official division of the country as real Afghanistan is composed of five provinces—Cabulistan with its dependencies of Kafiristan in the mountains near [illegible] In the Hezareh commanding the upper basin of the Helmund. Khorassan which bounds the last named on the west and south from Herat to Kandahar and is only separated by a conventional line from Persian Khorassan. Afghan Turkestan situated between the northern slope of the Hindoo Koosh and the upper waters of the Amou Daria. Finally Seistan which surrounds the Hamoon lake. This federation is however anything but binding, several of the khanates particularly Herat are virtually independent and could be easily detached from the Afghan agglomeration while the plains and cities of Turkestan seem fatally destined to become Russian appanages. Besides this the social organization by tribes or clans, accustomed through ages to self government weakens greatly the action of the central power so that if anything can give to Afghanistan the strength to resist the shock of a European army it will be the force of cohesion resulting from a common sentiment of hatred for the invader. The English hold the Bolan Pass and have a garrison at Quettah on the Beloochee frontier evidently with the intention of moving on Kandahar but there are deep snow drifts everywhere in the mountain gorges and transport is deficient for that multitude of camp followers always attached to an Anglo Indian army where every Sepoy must have his shoe black and every Sowar his grass cutter. Serious operations cannot commence before spring, and in the interval many changes may occur. The Russians have their outposts south of the Caspian at points whence access is easy to the Herat valley the cravings of Persia for the Seistan province point to an offensive alliance which would open yet more direct routes to the Russian army and the reports of the Russian staff show how careful has been the military study of the Afghan frontier.

An Afghan's Opinion

[Letter from one of Shere Ali's subjects in the London News.]

In 1839 the English invaded Afghanistan without the least provocation or I may say any adequate cause whatever. When they fail to force upon the natives the ruler whom they have they pour in their overwhelming forces burn their cities to ashes massacre the inoffensive inhabitants by thousands and do all possible mischief they can think of. Shortly after this they most generously come forward shake hands with the ameer and in an off hand manner make it all up. Scarcely the Afghans had forgotten their disasters when the ameer is asked to allow a British resident to remain at his court. He candidly tells them the feeling of his people toward the English and respectfully declines to give any guarantee for the resident's safety. This reasonable excuse inflames the English. They desert him and declare that they will have nothing to do with the ameer or his country any more. When they see the Russian envoy going to Cabul they burn with jealousy and vow that they must send their envoy too at any cost or sacrifice. Now in the name of heaven it is difficult to see what induces them to depart from their non interference policy. They write letters in most imperious tones and send a hasty mission. Without awaiting the ameer's reply the mission is ordered to push on to Cabul. The ameer's commandant gives them to understand that he has received no instruction representing the mission from the ameer and consequently his duty prevents him from allowing the mission to proceed any further. Thereupon the English feel very indignant and cry out, "War war even to the knife!" They forget that pride goes before a fall.

BRITISH LOYALTY

A SAMPLE FROM THE PRESS OF HALIFAX ON THE LORNE RECEPTION

[Halifax Telegram, Nov 25.]

The Halifax press is going crazy over this business. The following is the opening of the Chronicle's welcome: On a far off isle on a mighty nation the mother of nations shine the rays of the rising sun. On the mighty billows of the ocean vexed by fretful November winds on a speeding ship with fair and manly burden freighted, strike the rays of the noonday orb. On a vast continent on an expectant people gleams the splendors of the setting king of day. Out into the Atlantic Canada has gazed through the deep gloom of night and the vapors of early dawn watching for the first faint glimpse of the golden crimson banner. From distant isle to near continent comes floating o'er the waters the whispered prayer of God speed the daughter of the queen and the heir of Argyll. From the mountains and plains from the valleys and dales from the lakes and seas of the great dominion there breathes forth the call, O bring them safely O bring them quickly and it rolls on away away through fog through storm, and meets the brave ship as she dashes on westward with the start of empire. Old ocean's waste gray and melancholy no more but gay and glad echoes the wish of millions in England and millions in Canada. Who is it that comes from across the sea? Lorne. Shout the waves of the deep. Louise! cry the winds of heaven. Lorne chosen by his queen to rule this fair land of ours. Lorne of a ducal race the heir. Louise the royal bride of a chief of the Gaels. Lorne and Louise our gracious rulers etc to the extent of two columns.

The Pay of Lecturers

There is a wide difference in the amounts paid to lecturers. The St Louis lyceum has gone out of business—reformed we suppose—and its records show the exact payment to each of the many people who have appeared on its platform. The scale of prices runs from Henry Ward Beecher at $400 for a single night down to Robert Burdette at $75. Carl Schurz received $200, $100 less than he charges for campaign speeches. Elizabeth Cady Stanton had to be content with $[illegible] Henry Watterson had $150. Wendell Phillips $125. The business is losing its grip.

Hayes' Hard-Heartedness

From the Meridian (Miss.) Mercury

We are bound to say that Hayes showed himself a little hard hearted in permitting Devens his law officer to make the movement to put marshals [illegible] on the war path after the old Grant style to intimidate the white people of the south in the congressional elections after all that this people has suffered. He ought to be ashamed of it.

KIN BEYOND THE SEA

A comparison between one's own country and another is usually a cheap way of indulging a species of national boasting, since the writer hardly ever fails to view his subject from his own patrial standpoint of pride and sufficiency. English writers have frequently taken revenge upon us for our habit of glorifying ourselves and our country. True the characters they have drawn, talking American bombast, are caricatures, but they are sufficiently like to compel one to recognize the outline with all its coarse and extravagant features. Even yet Haliburton's sketches of the Yankee clock maker are read with amusement and the delineations of American character in Dickens' Chuzzlewit are not beyond recognition by those who remember the free and enlightened American citizen of thirty years ago—that child of nature and child of freedom whose boastful answer to the tyrant and the despot was that his bright home was in the setting sun. The American is so different now that no caricatures like these would be possible. We are changed and sobered. The great war was one of the agencies that did much to make us older. It showed us that we could quarrel, fight, kill and make up again like civilized Europe, and after passing through such a conflict many of our provincial peculiarities were gone and we began to appear like an older people. As population in many parts of our country grows more dense the struggle for existence becomes more and more absorbing; all this rapidly leads to changes of individual and consequently of national character. We hear now less boasting than formerly of the vast superiority of our country over every other on the planet, and the average American citizen appears to expectorate and strut considerably less than he did a quarter of a century ago.

Nevertheless no comparison between America and other countries ever showed heretofore so greatly to the advantage of the former as now. If it would seem quite out of the way for an American to attempt a comparison of his country in point of grandeur with the foremost and most wealthy of European states, let England's greatest statesman tell us what he has to say. Mr Gladstone, in his recent article in the North American Review entitled Kin Beyond the Sea speaks thus of the greatest of the offspring of our prolific British mother who has sent her children over all the earth to be the founders of half a dozen empires:

The development which the Republic has effected has been unexampled by its rapidity and force. While other countries have doubled, or at most trebled their population she has risen, during one single century of freedom, in round numbers, from two millions to forty-five. As to riches it is reasonable to establish, from the decennial stages of the progress thus far achieved a series for the future and, reckoning upon this basis, I suppose that the very next census, in the year 1880 will exhibit her to the world as certainly the wealthiest of all the nations. The huge figure of £1 000 000 000, which may be taken roundly as the annual income of the United Kingdom has been reached at a surprising rate, a rate which may perhaps be best expressed by saying that, if we had started 40 or 50 years ago from zero, at the rate of our recent annual increment, we should now have reached our present position. But while we have been advancing with this portentous rapidity, America is passing us by in a canter. Yet even now the work of searching the soil and the bowels of the territory, and opening out her enterprise throughout its vast expanse is in its infancy. The England and the America of the present are probably the two strongest nations of the world. But there can hardly be a doubt, as between the America and the England of the future that the daughter, at some no very distant time will whether fairer or less fair, be unquestionably yet stronger than the mother.

An essay in a prominent eastern publication attempts an inquiry whether the United Kingdom can actually pursue this competition with the United States. There are occasional intimations that England is growing tired of her free trade policy because she finds protected nations driving her from her markets and compelling her manufacturers to reduce wages to the starvation point. But it is not easy to see how protection would remove these difficulties. England is not her own customer in her metal and textile manufactures except to a very limited extent and protection for her could hardly have other effect than to increase the cost and price of all products of this character, and still further shut her out from the markets of the world. It cannot be doubted that England is losing some of the splendid advantages she has held for one hundred years in furnishing goods for other nations. The ascendency is slipping away from her because other countries chiefly our own are becoming able to produce the same or a better quality of goods at less cost than she can. And it is justly observed that the real source of her trouble is not in her want of a protective policy but in the fact that she is encumbered with an excessively costly civil and political system. In short she is handicapped with feudal privilege and the faded tinselry of [illegible] forms. The non-producing gentry and aristocracy of the realm own four fifths of the land and the support of these hereditary classes with the royalty of the country and all its ornamental and costly appendages and immense military and naval armaments imposes high [illegible] upon [illegible] the manufacturing mechanic renders him unable to submit to the reduced wages which competition renders necessary and encumbers the master manufacturer with great difficulties and burdens. For ten months ending November 1st the imports into the United Kingdom exceeded the exports by the prodigious total of $746 000 000, large part of which is on account of food. This would not be an unfavorable sign if England as formerly could hold the world's markets for her manufactured products but she is complaining of gra[illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] her industrial struggle.

GOOD RECOMMENDATIONS

In his report to Washington on Indian affairs in this department General Howard recommended that those who assisted the hostiles be sent to some remote place where they cannot easily return. The "remote place" which the worst of these offenders really deserve is the one to which the government will not send them. In other words it chooses to regard every one of these risings as war and there are no rules to punish with death even those who are the inciters and ring leaders of murderous outbreak. Gen Howard's recommendation is politic and wise. The country has heard with extreme dissatisfaction and even with anger that large numbers of the captured hostiles are to be sent to the Yakima reservation whence they will undoubtedly straggle off, mingle with other disaffected bands and add a new menace to a section of country already disturbed by the semi hostile relations existing between Indians and whites. And while we second this suggestion of Gen Howard's as to the removal to some remote place of those who participated with the hostiles we must also commend his other recommendation that the Umatillas who were constantly loyal and did good service in fighting receive a suitable reward.

The massive intellect of the expert's organ doesn't believe that resumption will succeed because there is not an amount of gold in the treasury equal to the whole volume of outstanding greenbacks. It was only a little while since the same prodigious understanding was engaged in the work of demonstrating that it was not necessary to have any great amount of gold in the treasury to effect resumption. Gold was not wanted, confidence only was necessary and the secretary was doing a great wrong in locking up such an amount of gold. Confidence is a great matter. That confidence game which was played on the treasury of Oregon in the matter of the state printing was gold resumption in itself on no small scale. The ninety dollar expert knows something about finance as the state of Oregon has found out to its cost.

In the Magazine of American History for December there is a reprint of a description (translated from the French) of the City of New York in 1772 by an eye witness St John de Creve Cœur. Its population was then 28 000. Its houses numbered 3 400; it had 20 churches, a college and a hospital; a lighthouse had just been erected at Sandy Hook and a steam pump supplied the city with water at the rate of 58 pails at every movement of the balance wheel. There were 24 different kinds of shell fish in the market and the quantity of oysters surprising.

The effort to erect a monument to Gen Lee at Richmond has failed or at all events is postponed. The whole amount collected for the purpose thus far does not exceed $15 000, a sum inadequate to warrant any attempt to proceed with the work. The Americans are not a monument building people. The effort to honor the memory of Senator Morton with a monument does not progress hopefully. We shall have no Pantheon and no Westminster Abbey.

The assistant treasurer of New York has received an order from Secretary Sherman directing him to stop issuing gold certificates at once. Purchasers of gold will hereafter be obliged to carry away the coin in bulk unless they can make terms with the holders of $25 000,000 of gold certificates now outstanding. The secretary's action is a surprise and is interpreted as a slap to those who have recently been so anxious to keep up the premium on gold.

It is intimated that Democrats in Washington are becoming frightened at recent developments of Tilden's plans for capturing the national Democratic convention of 1880. He is accused of having agents now at work in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Missouri, Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and other smaller states organizing his forces and preparing to take the convention by storm in 1880, as he did in 1876.

Adjutant General Townsend of the United States army, is past the age for his office. Two persons are prominently talked of for his successor, namely Gen Drum and Gen Nelson A Miles. A big pull is making for the latter. His wife is a niece of the Shermans.

The treasurer of the United States reports that since 1864 the national banks have paid in taxes to the United States the prodigious sum of $84,045,771 11. The taxes paid by the banks under state laws have reached an equal sum.

The United States senate will again have a Republican majority in 1881 if the Republicans retain control of the states they carried at the late election.

Democrats in the senate evince much disinclination to enter upon a discussion of the Blaine resolution in regard to southern elections.

CONFIDENTIAL.

THE SAILORS' STRIKE.

In speaking of the recent sailors strike which extended all over the Pacific coast and is felt in Portland the San Francisco Chronicle says The owners of vessels engaged in the coast trade have for some time endeavored to reduce the wages of their seamen Their efforts have generally proven unsuccessful owing to the determined stand taken by the Seaman's Protective Association which has fixed $35 per month as the rate of wages The reduced rate is $30 The Harvest Home was the first vessel that endeavored to obtain seamen at reduced wages Failing her owner concluded to lay her up until he got a crew at his price The Association took off from the J B Bell one of whom, it was reported, had shipped for $30. Some of the lumber dealers have decided to have their vessels remain idle rather than pay an advance in wages In consequence of this the Seaman's Association to show their deter mination paraded some the principal streets yesterday bearing, in the line significant and appropriate placards One of the lumber firms Adams & Taylor, who objected to the rates of the Association, say that their vessels have barely paid expenses, and that the price of lumber has depreciated materially in the last few months Freightage has decreased every where Their expenses must be cut down or their vessels must lie idle They claim that it is but fair that seamen should in some degree suffer with their employers The Association numbers some 1 500 members who assert that they will not give up until the masters agree upon some terms"

STILL IN THE LEAD.

IN VARIETY, STYLE ELEGANCE OF GOODS AND LOW PRICES

In displaying my holiday stock I take pleasure in announcing to the public that my selections this season while in San Francisco have never been surpassed by any one—it be ing the finest invoice of jewelry, watches dia monds and silver ware ever imported into the state Owing to the prolonged continuation of hard times in the east and California, I was enabled to purchase at prices greatly below anything heretofore and my customers are thereby gainers in being able to obtain fine goods at prices materially reduced from former times

I cordially invite the public to examine my stock and ascertain for themselves assuring them that my well established reputation for fair dealing will be maintained knowing that my goods cannot be excelled and the prices are as low as honest competition can place them

In presenting the above for public consid eration I feel convinced that the patronage so liberally extended me heretofore will be continued as I will leave nothing undone to please and satisfy all L C Henrichsen 149 First street, Portland

Democratic Talk on the Silver Question

[From the New York World]

Our esteemed contemporary the Cincinnati Commercial is right when it says that the Bland dollar contains the same quantity of pure silver that the dollar of the dad dies" contained but it is wrong when it says that the subdivisions of a silver dollar now current are honest parts of even a Bland dollar They are of 7 per cent less value And we are sure that our con temporary must agree with us in think ing it scandalous that there should be 15 per cent difference in bullion worth between our gold and our silver dollar and that the real value of our minor silver coin should be 7 per cent less even than that of the whole dollar of 85 cents What remedy would the Commercial propose It clearly is not right to shovel its undervalued and under weighed silver on the laborers of the land who get no other money who cannot deposit in a bank like other money, who have to pay more for all they consume because they have no other money and who, in order to use it otherwise than in paying their daily bills must submit to a shave by a bullion broker

"Confound it," said he, jumping up, "You're always meddling! Suppose you did hear us It was raining hard and Ame lia said to me 'Joseph do take care of yourself. Do go to the IXL Auction Com pany and buy yourself a pair of those great big Hip Rubber Boots, they only ask $3 75 for them and they are $4 50 everywhere else,' and I answered, 'Amelia if you take an interest in me I WILL be careful. THE INDIAN QUESTION IN EASTERN OREGON

PENDLETON Or, Dec 6, 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In common with all intelligent men I appreciate the spirit of your recent articles on the Indian question as presented to the people of Eastern Oregon It is beyond doubt true that if the unfortunate conditions now exis ting are not changed we shall have another Indian war next spring Such a year and should be averted If the general gov ernment would defer a little to the feelings and prejudices of the white citizens and take some steps looking to the removal of the Indians from Umatilla reservation a better state of things would prevail Just as long as they remain where they are there will be no use hoping for peace in this county—per haps not in Eastern Oregon I do not urge that the government disregard in the least the property rights of the Indians Give them fair compensation for such of their property as cannot be removed and if necessary give them a large gratuity

I have heard many approving comments of THE OREGONIAN'S views in relation to the great wrong of killing Indians promiscuously —a plan advocated and applauded only by lawless men and reckless journals From just such cruel acts as have lately occurred in Grand Ronde valley can easily grow a long and bloody war The sentiment of Eastern Oregon is strongly and decidedly against such acts Nearly everybody favors a peace able solution of the problem

Let the law take its course is the almost universal expression The law has taken its course as regards some of the murderers of George Coggan and others are now on trial In the Indian trials there has been nothing like vindictiveness Quit it tumps and White Owl of whose guilt there can be no doubt were sentenced two days ago by Judge Mc Arthur to suffer the extreme penalty of the law on the 10th of January next Peo the son and heir of the chief We-nap snoot has been tried and acquitted Peo is generally regarded as one of the bitterest enemies of the whites yet notwithstanding that the in stinct of justice in the bosoms of the jurors was so strong as to lead them to decide the case upon the facts presented without regard to the public prejudice against him

Ap and Lo patch It are now on trial Great care has been taken in all these trials Alto gether over three hundred persons were ex amined under oath before a sufficient num ber of qualified jurors were found and after being empanelled the juries were not allowed to separate until the verdicts were rendered The best interpreters have been employed The Indians have been represented by able counsel and the district attorney has been assisted in all but the last case A variety of interesting questions have been presented and decided the most important of which was the question of the jurisdiction of the state courts

Many of the chiefs and head men have at tended court during these trials but Uma pine remains up in the mountains That chief hates the whites, as may be judged from the following incident A number of years ago a council was held on the reservation, at which were present a number of the com missioners with Felix Brunot at their head, and all the Indian chiefs Brunot and his brethren, with much gravity told the Indians that the whites loved the red man and that the Great Father at Washington particularly had a good heart" for them Each chief responded in a similar strain until it came Umapine's turn He arose with a grunt and slowly said "When the white man says he loves the Indian he lies, and when the Indian says he loves the white man he lies." This may be only a tradition, but the speech con tains two mighty truths NORFOLK

Indians and the Army

[Washington Special Dec

Gen Sherman to day submitted to the joint commission on the transfer of the Indian bu reau to the war department a number of offi cial documents verifying his previous state ments regarding the advisability of the trans fer The general describes the sufferings of the Indians and said the army should either be transferred to the interior department or the Indian bureau to the war department Under the existing management the govern ment was very heavily taxed and the poor Indian was driven to the wall notwithstan ding It was his opinion that twenty years hence the American republic would have 80 000 000 and as population increased the Indian reservations would be required for cultivation and the Indian should be cared for now that he might be prepared for the emergency The total number of Indians is nearly 22 000, and under military manag ment a greater number could be placed under civilian agents always however retaining military control over them With reference to the proposition of the Indian bureau to arm young bucks as soldiers or policemen Gen Sherman said the idea was unadvisable as it was simply arming a bitter enemy Should the transfer be made Indian wars would be unheard of All troubles could be foreseen and outbreaks prevented Quarter master General Meigs contends that the trans fer must prove beneficial to both the Indians and the army

Blair Wants Tilden for 1880.

[Mr Blair's Letter to Baltimore Telegram]

The great facts are that the nomination and el ction of Mr Tilden was the work of the people that his deposition was the work of the jobbers and of the politicians who had obtained control of the Democratic party or ganization during the prevalence of the slave question and who were seeking to maintain that control The rout of the party in the northern states in the late election naturally followed The question is plainly presented therefore whether the Democratic masses will continue to allow their principles to be sacrificed by the ambition of that coterie of politicians under whose leadership they have been so long and disastrously defeated Hav ing seen that the nomination of Tilden quelled all discord in our ranks and brought success and that his defeat and abandonment by the congressional coterie has brought back discord and defeat they can be at no loss how to restore unity and strength to the party

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup

Is composed of ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle, Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

Dr. Howe's Testimony.

During the past two years I have given Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites a fair though somewhat severe trial in my practice. In restoring persons suffering from emaciation and the debility following diphtheria, it has done wonders. I constantly recommend its use in all affections of the throat and lungs. In several cases considered hopeless it has given relief, and the patients are fast recovering. Among these are consumptive and old bronchial subjects, whose diseases have resisted other modes of treatment. For impaired digestion and in fact for debility from any cause, I know of nothing equal to it. WM. M. HOWE, M. D.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.

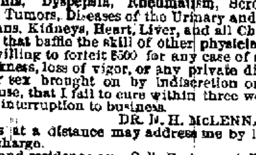
REWARD.

$500 REWARD WILL BE PAID TO ANY one who has ever applied to me for a cure and failed in being restored to permanent health; also, the above reward will be paid to any one who will present a case that I will not cure. Sum up courage and come to see me, for I cure



All sickness and disease of whatsoever name or nature, without medicine, except where it is actually required. The following are a few of the diseases that yield to my wonderful powers; Chronic Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Female Complaints, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Cancers, Tumors, Diseases of the Urinary and Genital Organs, Kidneys, Heart, Liver, and all Chronic Diseases that baffle the skill of other physicians.

I am willing to forfeit $500 for any case of seminal weakness, loss of vigor, or any private disease of either sex brought on by indiscretion or any other cause, that I fail to cure within three weeks, without interruption to business.
